

Make Plans Now to Complete Your Study in Journalism and Emerging Media in Four Years

Journalism Students: A sample program of study is below; taking summer classes could accelerate your progress. Your own program of study may vary, depending on course availability and your eligibility based on a number of factors (which includes prerequisites and grades). This is merely an example of a four-year plan. We recommend that you take 15 hours of course work (5 courses) a semester to put you on track to graduate in four years. Note that you may need to include one 18-hour semester (6 classes) to complete your degree requirements if you attend only in Fall and Spring semesters, or take one class during a Summer semester (*see below). Many students choose a summer Internship (COM 3398) or JOUR 3395 Journalism Study Tour to satisfy this requirement. As a Journalism and Emerging Media major, you must make a 'C' or higher to successfully complete SOCM courses. Journalism and General Education checklists are available on the SOCM web site: <http://socm.hss.kennesaw.edu/resources/advising/>. A Certificate in Multiplatform News Reporting is also available through our program. Your classes in a minor or certificate program can fill your Related Studies area; if you don't choose to take a minor, you still need to take 12 hours of Related Studies courses.
